"Hey there Chompers, this is Denji coming at you live to greet you from The Pound. To celebrate 50,000 subscribers, we're going to rely on an oldie but a goodie and head to the kitchen. On this stream, we're going to make...Tunisian Lamb Soup. That's...like from Star Wars or something? That's a real place? And this is a real dish? Oh wow...what's even the drink you voted for? The Butterfly Effect? That's definitely a movie. Oh boy, I already got all the stuff...guess we gotta get started. So we're going to add the lamb to the...casserole. We gotta make a whole ass casserole first? Damn it, it'd be easier to just eat a lamb raw...I wouldn't do that, they're too cute. Plus, all that wool...

Hello there, kittens...not quite used to calling full-grown people that but if that's how you want to be addressed, so be it...it's Asa Mitaka coming live from her apartment's kitchen's counter for the 75,000 subscriber special. And helping me out with it are these three gentlemen that I brought over on loan from the aquarium to tell you about their lives and their anatomies: say hello to the hermit crabs everyone. They...they can't say hello back but...I'm sure if they were capable of sapient thought, they would be happy to see you all. As a reminder, if this stream is successful, I will do a live stream next week to support the Autism Society of Japan. You guys help me out so much and I just want to give back...um, you, the ones watching, not the crabs. Oh, and Crambon will not be joining us for this milestone stream, unfortunately. I didn't want him to kill and eat our guests. Would have...completely changed the tone of this lecture. Now these little guys...I keep just calling them anything but their names. This is Spine, Rabbit and Upgrade. Most of the hermit crabs in the pet trade are Coenobita Clypeatus, more colloquially known as Purple Pincers. They come from the Caribbean and they're one of the toughest of their species. In the wild, they spend their time climbing trees and burrowing under them...that's why I put a few toy model ones down for them. Pretty sure they can tell the difference though...oh, and despite being called hermit crabs, they live in large groups and are very social. When you adopt a hermit crab, make sure to buy three or more at a time...some people can't live by just themselves or just one other person. I mean, I get along well but...I have Crambon and...let's just continue---

"What it do, Bomb Squad?! This is Reze coming at you live from the Shelter at our official 100,000 Subscriber Special! Seriously guys, couldn't make it this far without you and the other people I keep in my tiny corner off-screen. Who are they? Well...maybe one day I can introduce you to them properly. For now though? I made you guys a promise and I intend to keep it. For this stream, we are going to Nuzlocke Pokemon Ruby! Only in this one, I have to only use three Pokemon throughout the entire playthrough. I lose? I have to start all over with three different ones. So, yeah...this is going to be a bit of a minefield to cross here. But you guys know me: all or nothing. Win big, lose big. It's what we're all here for. Besides, I know can't lose with the ones I'm looking for from the start: my Torchic, my Poochyena and my Taillow! Can't stop the bombardment with my peeps! Alright, I've kept you guys waiting long enough...let's boot it up!

...HOLY SHIT, THE TRUMPETS! я глухой."

"Anyone here watch KickBack Productions? I hear Denji's going to the gym to take a 100 punches next."

"That's so lowbrow...instead of watching variety shit all the time, why don't you flex your mental muscles by subscribing to The Depths Of It? Asa's gonna have a consultant on to talk about sharks on the next stream."

"That entire channel is only for people with communication disorders. You guys need to stop acting like watching niche stuff makes you special and subscribe to Bomb Devil. She's going to reach one million subscribers by the end of the year, I guarantee it."

"I don't know why you guys do these stupid fandom wars every time these creators' names are brought up. It's obvious Denji and Reze are dating anyway."

"What? Don't spread stupid rumors. Keep shipping to fiction, you geek."

"They follow each other on Twitter and have given shout-outs to each other on some of their videos. It's common knowledge that they're a thing together at this point."

"That's your evidence? They're fans of each other? Because they're both following Asa and Asa's following them back so that's where that logic's heading. Why can't people just have different interests?"

"I mean, Asa actually showed up in a few of Reze's videos for some reason and she was seen talking to Denji in the background of his Pillow Tower challenge so...they definitely all know each other in real life."

"That's so wild...who's dating who then?"

"Wouldn't be weird if Asa and Denji were going out? Only because they're so different..."

"They don't talk about their love lives on camera...and Denji stopped saying he needs a girlfriend years ago so..."

"What if Asa and Reze are dating? Reze says she doesn't mind the gender of her partner."

"Don't be horny on main. I bet Asa isn't even into anybody."

"Why? Because she's autistic? That's infantilization...or something."

"Autistic people can be ace! A good deal are, in fact."

"What the hell happened to this thread, lol."

"Maybe they have boyfriends and girlfriends out of work and they all know each other through them?"

"That's so complicated...why can't we just come to a single answer?"

"Why is this any of our business in the first place? Any of you guys going to Squid Con?"

"I'm not going to anything hosted by Yoshida-chan until he cuts ties with Fumiko."

"So...hate to drudge up an old topic but...should we tell people?"

Denji lied back on his bed, Asa curling up next to him with her head on his stomach as Reze edited videos on the desktop, Crambon in her lap.

"Tell people what? You know I hate vagueness." Asa groaned as she roused from her nap.

"I think he's talking about the relationship announcement...thing." Reze sighed out, taking off her headset. "And I still think it's a bad idea."

"Why? Is it because so many girls want me to be their boyfriend?" Denji asked before Asa's hand fell on his face lightly yet firmly. "Ow."

"I'm thinking of the sponsors...Denji, you're just getting attention from people who want to get some ad space on your stuff. As much as corporations love to pinkwash, non-heteronormative stuff like open relationships make their balls shrivel up like a cherry on the Hibachi. I don't want you to risk your career over something that's nobody's business in the first place."

"We wouldn't be the first streamers and channel holders to be in a polyamorous thing, right...it sounds like it should be more common, considering..." Asa thought out loud.

"There was this thing a long time back with these guys and one of their wives and it was a huge controversy...I don't want that to happen to either of you." Reze said. "If you two want to say that you're dating, fine...but I don't need people judging you just for being in love with another woman at the same time."

"You don't care what will happen to your channel?" Denji asked. "You have that thing with Shift Up, right?"

"Denji...I'm a Let's Player with tits who made the 100k mark." Reze sighed. "I'm basically invincible at this point. You guys need to think about your personas at this point though."

"...What if we just wore, like, pins that made a shape whenever we're on camera?" Denji suggested. "That way, we wouldn't be saying it but we'd still be saying it, right?"

"Or we can just say 'it's complicated' whenever someone asks about our love lives?" Asa added. "It's not but...it should keep the intrigue going without explaining anything?"

"You guys...honestly..." Reze rolled her eyes while petting Crambon's head. "You're going to get us all sniped by Dan Clancy."

End Notes

...A ten-hour stream with the three coming out at the ending? I'm just spitballing here.
